Launching Project Social Media Channel

We are happy to announce that we run a project AGROS Facebook profile already!

By taking the advantage of social media we would like to build a community of non-governmental organisations, public local authorities, agriculturalists, gardeners, environmentalists or just citizens, who interested in green roofs as a sustainable lifestyle's promotion, environmental/economic sustainability and public awareness tool.

For your interest we will share the news related to the AGROS project development, upcoming events, other relevant information related to green roofs from across the Europe and other countries.

Follow our page and invite your friends and colleagues who might be interested in our content to join us: <https://www.facebook.com/AGROS.EUproject>.
