

March 2022

Do you really know all the benefits of green roofs?

Green roofs have recently gained great attention of urban planners and architects – mainly because of numerous social, economic, and design-based benefits they bring to public, private, economic and social sectors, and even more important, to local and global environments.

Green roofs add new value to the role of buildings within urban planning. They are designed not only to restore the natural element to the urban environment, but also to provide solutions to important issues such as the urban heat island effect and stormwater management.

Read more at: <https://www.urbanscape-architecture.com/do-you-really-know-all-the-benefits-of-green-roofs/>

